We can then estimate proper charges, immediately adding nothing by guess-work. When your watch is repaired, we check it again, assuring you of "proven" efficiency of our work—lastest, fool!

ALABAMA HIGHLIGHTS

The famous old St. James Hotel in Selma, which was mentioned a few weeks ago has just been offered as a landmark to the Dallas County Historical Society. The old hotel, now in a dilapidated state, was built in 1838 and was for many years one of the show places of the South, and a great entertaining center for the rich planters and slave holders in the black belt. It was revealed recently that Jesse James, while running from Federal officers, once stopped over at the St. James and became the life of the party one evening, without any of the guests knowing his identity.

Army Prepares To Select Second Unknown Soldier

The army is making plans to select the unknown soldier of the Second World War. The procedure probably will be somewhat similar to that followed in choosing the unknown soldier of the First World War, whose body rests in Arlington National Cemetery, in Virginia. His successor will follow him there. Selection of a second unknown soldier from the remains of nine unknown soldiers who fell in battle in the major combat areas is still a long way off. It will not be done until the program for returning about 250,000 Second World War identified dead from overseas is completed. The $200,000,000 program, for return of identified dead is expected to take about three years.

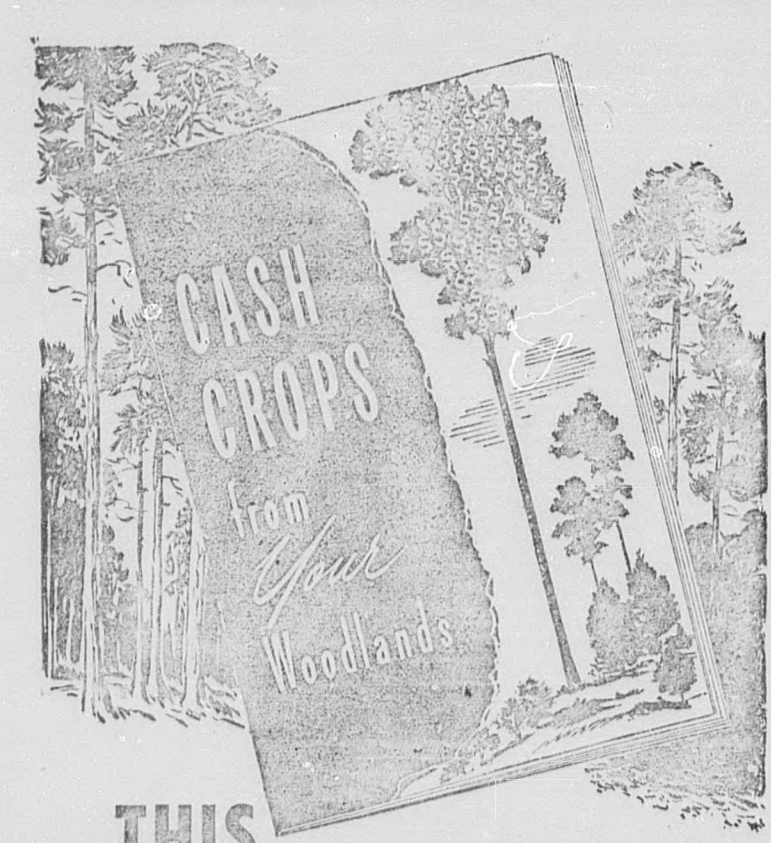

The selection of the unknown soldier of the First World War was made at Chalons-sur-Marne, France, Oct. 23, 1921, from four coffins taken from United States military cemeteries in Europe. A sergeant who did not know from which cemetery the coffins were taken selected one by placing on it a bouquet of four pink and four white roses.

Perplexed Cops Discover For Whom Bridge Tolls

PHILADELPHIA — A Delaware river bridge policeman figures he's seen everything now.

A solemn-looking, slow-moving horse entered the Philadelphia side of the bridge. The policeman saw a pair of feet sticking out the back door.

He phoned the Camden side to "stop that horse."

At the toll gate, Sgt. Joseph McWilliams told the driver he was losing his cargo.

"Oh, no," said the driver, "they're my friends."

Sure enough, there were three young men scattered on the floor of the horse, one with his feet sticking out.

The boys — University of Pennsylvania students — explained they had raised $100 and bought the horse. McWilliams let them go, slowly shaking his head.

Cache of Gold Hunted in Reich

U. S. Gets Tip on Existence Of Vast Treasure Hidden By Ribbentrop.

NUERNBERG, GERMANY. — A treasure hunt in search of millions of dollars in gold, perhaps as much as 20 million dollars, they believe was cashed by Joachim Ribbentrop, Hitler's foreign minister, has been embarked upon by the American war crimes prosecution.

They say the treasure probably was buried in churches, on farms, perhaps still tucked away in forgotten corners of former German embassies abroad.

Existence of the funds was tipped off here by former henchmen of Ribbentrop in the Nazi foreign ministry. In guarded hints, they disclosed it during interrogations by Dr. Robert M. W. Kempner, who prepared the prosecution of the German ministers under Hitler.

Ribbentrop had been here as a war criminal October 16, 1946, before the prosecutors got on the trail of the hidden gold. American agents had done such a magnificent job of finding loot, Kempner said, that it never occurred to anyone to look in the foreign office files.

Ribbentrop had four funds — a general budget, a "secret" fund of about four million dollars, a war emergency fund of unlimited amounts and a "super-secret" personal account which held at one time at least 45 million dollars, according to Kempner.

Starting in 1933, Kempner said, Ribbentrop began to ship gold in small bars to various embassies "on the event that war should come."

Whether he wanted this as a personal "nest egg" is something that remained locked in the minister's mind.

Just Plain Loot.

In 1938, he intensified the shipment campaign after he got control of the ministry itself by replacing Konstantin von Neurath. The first shipment was valued at $100,000, and it was the smallest of all.

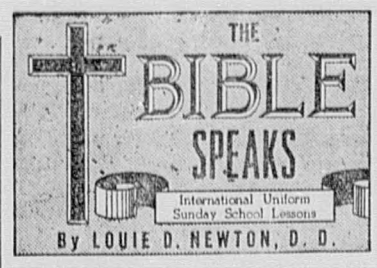

So much was sent to the various embassies that German ministers abroad objected to such heavy responsibility, the files show.

Ribbentrop got some of the gold from Goering's four year plan set up. The major source, however, amounted to plain loot.

When a nation was overrun, Kempner said, Ribbentrop's men searched the captured national banks before Finance Minister Hjalmar Schacht's bankers.

In the final days of the Reich, Ribbentrop shipped truckloads of gold to southern Germany for hiding.

Kempner said, and some of his trusted female secretaries accompanied the convoys. At the same time, Ribbentrop paid many civil servants salaries as much as several years in advance just to get rid of the surplus. In China, the Nazi embassy diverted much gold to what they called "nasty Germans."

What We Know of God
Lesson for January 11, 1948

THE Scripture for Sunday's lesson is Isaiah 40:29-31, Matthew 6:9, John 14:18-21, Acts 17:22-31, ROMANIAN, READING: Psalm 33.

What We Know of God

That thou not know? Hast thou not heard, that the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? Is there no searching of his understanding? He giveth power to the faint, and to them that have no might He increaseth strength. They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

That is the promise of Isaiah. What a promise! In this hour when men are bending beneath the weight of a weary world, how it gives lift to one's soul, to contemplate the words of this great and blessed promise.

God Our Maker

"HE GIVES TO ALL men life and health, and to all things, life." Acts 17:25. One of our daily prayers should be to thank God that he has created us, and to thank him for the beauty of another dawn. We must not take it for granted. It is the goodness and mercy of God that permits us to open our eyes, to breathe, to have food, to think. He gives us life and breath and everything.

He causes the sun to shine and the tides to ebb and flow. He causes the rain to fall and the winds to bear their blessings. He holds the earth in his course. God is the maker of every good thing.

And He Is Our Father

Not only is God the Creator and the Sustainer of the physical universe, but he is also our Father. He knows us each by name. He cares for us in our infancy, simply because they are his children, made in his image, capable of fellowship with him. The end of man, as the Catholicism clearly teaches, is to enjoy God and glorify him forever.

Read again the passage that describes Paul's visit to Athens, and how he observed that the people, though quite intelligent, were worshipping many different gods. Paul summed them up to worship the one true and living God.

When we acknowledge God as Maker and Father, we are then able to serve him in conscious assurance of his love and care for us as his adopted children.

Show Us the Father

Read again John 14:18-21, the prayer of Jesus in the garden. "Show us the Father," Jesus answered Philip, saying, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." We come to know God as Father through Jesus Christ, and only through Jesus Christ.

Belief in God Today

THE Bible is a book for today—any day, every day. It reveals the purpose of creation, both of the universe and man himself. It reveals the loving concern of God for every soul. It portrays his forbearance and his mercy and his exceeding kindness, even to sinful men and women who reject his love.

Best of all, the Bible tells us the sweetest story ever told — the story of how God gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

Religion, the Christian religion, is the most practical proposition in the world. Every man is constantly in reach of God, if only he will believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. God is yonder in the loneliest water tower of the hinterlands. He is yonder on the storm-tossed ship at sea. He is everywhere, waiting to own and bless any and all who will come to him through Jesus Christ.

What We Know of God
Lesson for January 11, 1948

THE Scripture for Sunday's lesson is Isaiah 40:29-31, Matthew 6:9, John 14:18-21, Acts 17:22-31, ROMANIAN, READING: Psalm 33.

What We Know of God

That thou not know? Hast thou not heard, that the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? Is there no searching of his understanding? He giveth power to the faint, and to them that have no might He increaseth strength. They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

That is the promise of Isaiah. What a promise! In this hour when men are bending beneath the weight of a weary world, how it gives lift to one's soul, to contemplate the words of this great and blessed promise.

God Our Maker

"HE GIVES TO ALL men life and health, and to all things, life." Acts 17:25. One of our daily prayers should be to thank God that he has created us, and to thank him for the beauty of another dawn. We must not take it for granted. It is the goodness and mercy of God that permits us to open our eyes, to breathe, to have food, to think. He gives us life and breath and everything.

He causes the sun to shine and the tides to ebb and flow. He causes the rain to fall and the winds to bear their blessings. He holds the earth in his course. God is the maker of every good thing.

And He Is Our Father

Not only is God the Creator and the Sustainer of the physical universe, but he is also our Father. He knows us each by name. He cares for us in our infancy, simply because they are his children, made in his image, capable of fellowship with him. The end of man, as the Catholicism clearly teaches, is to enjoy God and glorify him forever.

Read again the passage that describes Paul's visit to Athens, and how he observed that the people, though quite intelligent, were worshipping many different gods. Paul summed them up to worship the one true and living God.

When we acknowledge God as Maker and Father, we are then able to serve him in conscious assurance of his love and care for us as his adopted children.

Show Us the Father

Read again John 14:18-21, the prayer of Jesus in the garden. "Show us the Father," Jesus answered Philip, saying, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." We come to know God as Father through Jesus Christ, and only through Jesus Christ.

MORE FERTILIZERS; STILL NOT ENOUGH

Auburn — There'll be a little more fertilizer available in 1948, but not enough to meet the demand. Quoting the U. S. Department of Agriculture, API Extension Agronomist J. C. Lowery says farmers will have about four per cent more nitrogen fertilizer, five per cent more potash, and six per cent more phosphate. Compared with the pre-war years, the 1948 supply will be about twice as much.

Due to the strong demand, supplies of fertilizer won't meet all farmer's requirements. Nitrogen will be particularly short of needs, and potash will continue to be tight. On the bright side, however, comes word that phosphate supplies are expected to be more nearly adequate, Lowery explains.

EARLY START URGED FOR 1948 GARDENS

Auburn — The average farmer would do well to plan a home garden this year to supplement the food supply and reduce the drain on the family purse.

An early start in the garden is strongly urged by J. C. Ford, API Extension Gardener. All old plants of last year's crops need to be taken off the land now to reduce the diseases and insects. Then, if needed, phosphate should be applied. Ford cautions gardeners to use no lime and manure under potatoes.

Never before has the Regular Army offered the young men of America the chance to select one of the more than sixty technical schools before enlisting. But right now, for a limited time, men with a high school education or better can enlist for three years and be assured of attending the school of their choice. These men may select from such diversified fields as Radar, Radio, Medical, Laboratory work, Automobile mechanics, Parachute Rigging—whatever your choice may be, it is possible to guarantee you training in that field so long as vacancies exist. A young man who enlists upon a Regular Army career in this way assures himself of rapid advancement. (Non-high school graduates may apply for three years and see that they enlist.)

Early choice will afford the best choice, so see your nearest U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force Recruiting Officer today. You'll find him at the O'Neal Building in Andalusia, or the City Hall in Elba every Friday.

Another garden job needing attention is the ordering of plants, seeds, pest control supplies, fertilizers, chemicals, and equipment.

Never before has the Regular Army offered the young men of America the chance to select one of the more than sixty technical schools before enlisting. But right now, for a limited time, men with a high school education or better can enlist for three years and be assured of attending the school of their choice. These men may select from such diversified fields as Radar, Radio, Medical, Laboratory work, Automobile mechanics, Parachute Rigging—whatever your choice may be, it is possible to guarantee you training in that field so long as vacancies exist. A young man who enlists upon a Regular Army career in this way assures himself of rapid advancement. (Non-high school graduates may apply for three years and see that they enlist.)

Early choice will afford the best choice, so see your nearest U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force Recruiting Officer today. You'll find him at the O'Neal Building in Andalusia, or the City Hall in Elba every Friday.

A good job with these, land be fixed as soon as possible," Ford explains.

A full home garden will help families face the 1948 food situation, in which meat will be slightly less plentiful than now at prices likely to be as high, or higher, than during 1947.

Ford believes the need for a record number of gardens is greater than ever before.

Less than ten years before the Civil War, William Walker from Mobile toured through Alabama raising funds to start a project for the purpose of "colonizing Nicaragua". He foresaw the possibility of slaves being freed and began his scheme to transport thousands of them to the Central American country if abolition came in the South. When he loaded a boatful of his chosen "colonists" and set sail from Mobile, Pres. Buchanan ordered a Naval gunboat to stop him. Walker sailed back into Mobile Bay when the boat fired on him, but during the night he slipped quietly by the Naval vessel and soon afterwards landed in Nicaragua and was successful in bringing about a revolution and seizing control of the country. But a year later he was shot.
